"I found Vlad by chance, in doing an Internet search for information about programming PHP code. On his website, he encouraged the reader to contact him even if it's just to ask a question. Because this is something I tell people on my own site, I knew he and I would jibe. I had a client whose needs were beyond the scope of my programming skills. After discussing the project briefly with Vlad, it was clear he would supply what I wanted at a very reasonable price. He listened to my needs, came up with good solutions, completed the programming within the required time frame, and was there for me later when I had additional needs. I found Vlad very easy to work with, and would recommend him for any project -- even more so if the budget is tight."

"Vlad is an excellent developer, fluent in PHP, MySQL and other open source tools. He's very responsive to requests and suggestions for changes."

— Rick Hale, Owner, Mt. Hood Technology Answers, was with another company when working with Vlad at SAI

"Vlad has ALL the attributes of an exceptional software developer!"
